

7 year old Jasmine collects rubbish from a steaming rubbish tip on a cold winter morning. She earns money to support her family by scavenging for items on the Kajla dump. It is one of three landfill sites in this city of twelve million people. Around 5,000 tones of garbage are dumped here each day and over a thousand people work among the rubbish, sorting through the waste and collecting items to sell to retailers for recycling. Dhaka. Bangladesh

Shahin lost both legs in a bomb attack in a cinema hall in Mymensingh. In recent years, Bangladesh has suffered a spate of unexplained terrorist attacks, at opposition rallies, cinema halls, musical concerts and mosques, killing at least 105 people since 2000.