

Sandra Bartlett and Susanne Reber, the two organizers of the GIJC-2007 Toronto event.

PHOTO: SALVATORE SACCO

Thank you!

GIJC-2008 is the result of a strong belief in the importance and impact of investigative journalism – but also a proof that global idealism is still alive and kicking. In addition to several generous sponsors, colleagues from all over the world have contributed to the conference providing information, a treasure chest of ideas, criticism, morale support and practical work. Big thanks also go to their employers, for giving them the essential time.

A special thank you goes to Nils Øy (The Association of Norwegian Editors) and Trond Idås (The Norwegian Union of Journalists) for great fundraising effort and assistance, Arne Jensen (The Association of Norwegian Editors), Elisabeth Salvesen (The Ministry of Foreign Affairs), Lise Myrhe (Millimeterdesign), Kenneth Lauveng for design and graphics, John Bones (VG), Espen Reiss-Mathisen (University of Stavanger) for initial fundraising and planning, the great travel agent consultant Lars Einar Korsbøen in Via Travel and Berit Simenstad in Aftenposten.

A big thank you also to our good friends and consultants in the GIJ-network: David Kaplan, Brant Houston, Chuck Lewis, Drew Sullivan, Margo Smit, Susanne Reber, Sandra Bartlett, Brigitte Alfter, Matti Stenrosen, Henrik Kaufholz and Morten Hansen, Helena Bengtsson.

Last, but not least, hats off for the big SKUP-family in Norway.

Always updated!

GIJ  08
Lillehammer / Norway

Follow the conference at

gijc2008.no